MARION DE RÉ

ABOUT MARION

Marion De Ré is a closed-door romantic comedy author. She lives in the French countryside with her husband and adorable cat. You can expect all your beloved tropes in her writing as well as a good dose of humor and all the feels. When she's not reading or writing, you can find her on a plane to a far-away destination or in a Champagne cellar, indulging in a tasting of her favorite drink. Her favorite trope to write is Fake Relationship, although she has a sweet spot for Sports Romance.

A NOTE FROM MARION

Hi there!

Thank you so much for choosing my book for this month's book club! I'm so honored to be a part of it.

I hope you'll enjoy this swoony office romance.

I love writing the dynamics between Lina and Jude, how they're both attracted to each other but can't act on it was incredibly entertaining! I'm a sucker for that off-limits tension and when you throw in a grump who's a secret baker, I'm all in!

I love London and visit very frequently since it's a short flight away from where I live so I really wanted to write a book set in London! Plus, I always fall for British men...

Hope you will too!

Love,

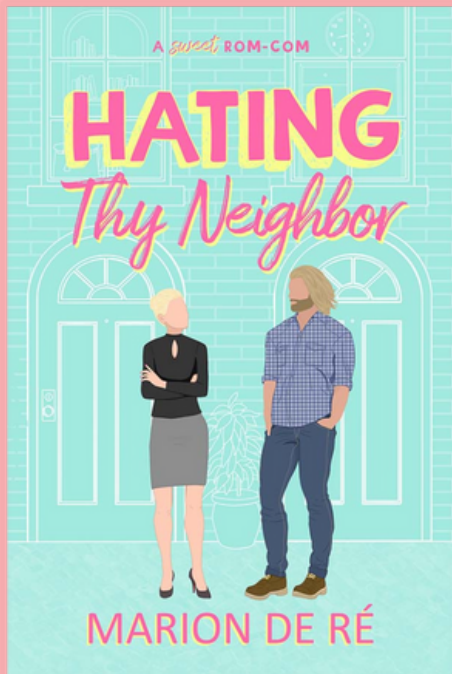

Marion De Fe

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

1. Do you feel you could relate to Lina? Was she easy to root for?
2. Is the forbidden romance trope something you like? What do you think about the off-limits tension between characters? Were the reasons of their impossible love believable?
3. This book is told in dual POV. Do you usually prefer single or dual POV books? How did the dual POV affected the story?
4. Were there any moments that made you tear up or snort-laugh your coffee?
5. How did you feel about Lina and Jude's chemistry and compatibility? Did the slow burn kept you on your toes?
6. Do you have a favorite moment or scene? Or maybe a favorite quote from the book?
7. Did you feel the backstories of the characters were explored enough and brought something to who they are now?
8. Did you read the book in one sitting or was it more a slow burn?
9. Was the fact that Jude is a baker surprising to you? Did you like those baking moments? Did you feel it added a lot to their relationship development?
10. This book uses both the British and American spelling to add authenticity. Did it bother you?
11. We meet Charlotte and Roxy in this story. Both heroines of other books in the series. Did it make you want to pick up their books?
12. Would you want to read another book by this author?
13. There's a list of reader expectations at the beginning of the book. Did you read it or skip it? Do you think it's important for authors to add expectations at the front of their books?
14. Give three adjectives to this book.
